Pavitra, I will have to find a post/article I have written outlining what is to be done by women i.e., the role of HALF THE SKY. In it, I clarified that I cannot interfere in any work to be carried out on behalf of MahaDevi. It must be done exclusively by women. My job is just to do Plan 'A' and Plan 'B' etc. i.e, to convey the information.

I think Shruti knows about this post from a few months ago. This is yet to be done and is a future undertaking. The few here have to do that one day. I am sure you will be one of them.

Jagbir, "Plan 'A' is for Pariah Kutta to bear the faith that "this Gospel of the Kingdom will be preached in the whole world as a testimony to all nations," Pariah Kutta, "Plan 'B' is for HALF THE SKY to bear the weight, 'and then the End will come.'" (August 30, 2022)

Pavitra is a Sanskrit word that means "pure" and is also one of the names of Srimati Radharani, the consort of Lord Krishna. In this blog post, I will share with you some insights on what Pavitra means for women who are following the teachings of MahaDevi, the Divine Mother.

MahaDevi is the supreme feminine power that manifests in various forms and aspects throughout the universe. She is the source of all creation, preservation and destruction. She is also the giver of wisdom, love and bliss. She is the mother of all beings and the ultimate goal of all spiritual seekers.

One of the ways to worship MahaDevi is to follow her instructions and guidance that are revealed through her messengers and prophets. One such messenger is Jagbir, who claims to have received visions and messages from MahaDevi since 1993. He has written several posts and articles outlining what he calls Plan 'A' and Plan 'B' for the salvation of humanity.

According to Jagbir, Plan 'A' is for Pariah Kutta, a term he uses to refer to himself and his followers, to spread the gospel of MahaDevi to all nations and peoples. He says that MahaDevi has chosen him and his group to be her witnesses and ambassadors in this age of darkness and ignorance. He says that Pariah Kutta have to bear the faith that MahaDevi will fulfill her promise of establishing her kingdom on earth.

Plan 'B', on the other hand, is for HALF THE SKY, a term he uses to refer to women who are devoted to MahaDevi. He says that women have a special role and responsibility in bringing about the end of this cycle of suffering and evil. He says that women have to bear the weight of awakening their dormant spiritual power and transforming themselves and the world with their love and compassion.

Jagbir says that he cannot interfere in any work to be carried out on behalf of MahaDevi by HALF THE SKY. He says that his job is just to convey the information and inspiration that he receives from MahaDevi. He says that it is up to women to take action and initiative in fulfilling their divine destiny.

This is where Pavitra comes in. Pavitra is not just a name, but a quality and a state of being. To be Pavitra means to be pure in body, mind and soul. It means to be free from all impurities, attachments, desires, fears, doubts and egoism. It means to be aligned with the will and purpose of MahaDevi. It means to be filled with her grace and power.

To be Pavitra is not easy. It requires constant effort, discipline, devotion and surrender. It requires facing one's own weaknesses, flaws and mistakes. It requires overcoming one's own limitations, challenges and obstacles. It requires sacrificing one's own comfort, convenience and pleasure. It requires serving others with humility, kindness and generosity.

But to be Pavitra is also rewarding. It brings peace, joy and bliss. It brings wisdom, knowledge and intuition. It brings strength, courage and confidence. It brings beauty, harmony and grace. It brings love, compassion and forgiveness.

To be Pavitra is to be a true daughter of MahaDevi. It is to be a true sister of Srimati Radharani. It is to be a true partner of Lord Krishna.

I hope this blog post has given you some insight into what Pavitra means for women who are following the teachings of MahaDevi. I hope it has inspired you to strive for purity in your own life. I hope it has encouraged you to join me and other women who are part of HALF THE SKY in our mission to bring about a new era of light and love on this planet.

Thank you for reading this blog post. If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to share them with me below. I would love to hear from you.
