Jesus is the only person who awakens those who hear, "Even so, when you see all these things, you know that it is near, right at the door." It is indeed near, right at the edge of the century. (January 20, 2022) Matthew 24:33

Jagbir, "Plan 'A': Sound is bondage for the deaf and dead many." Pariah Kutta, "Plan 'B': 'Sound is liberation for the hearing and living few.'" (May 19, 2023)

In this blog post, I will explore the meaning and significance of two quotes that relate to the Christian faith and the end times. The first quote is from Jesus Christ, who said: "Even so, when you see all these things, you know that it is near, right at the door." (Matthew 24:33) The second quote is from Jagbir and Pariah Kutta, who said: "Plan 'A': Sound is bondage for the deaf and dead many." Pariah Kutta, "Sound is liberation for the hearing and living few." (May 19, 2023)

The first quote is part of Jesus' discourse on the signs of his second coming and the end of the age. He was answering his disciples' questions about when these things would happen and what would be the sign of his coming. He warned them about false messiahs, wars, famines, earthquakes, persecutions, apostasy, false prophets, lawlessness, and the gospel being preached to all nations. He also told them about the great tribulation, the appearance of the abomination of desolation in the holy place, the cosmic disturbances, and his glorious return with power and great glory. He urged them to be watchful, ready, faithful, and wise.

The quote in Matthew 24:33 indicates that when his disciples see all these things happening, they will know that his coming is near, right at the door. This means that they will be able to discern the signs of the times and recognize that the fulfillment of God's plan is imminent. They will not be caught off guard or deceived by false claims. They will be prepared and eager for his arrival.

The second quote is from two writers who have been discussing the message of Shri Mataji Nirmala Devi, a spiritual leader who claimed to be the incarnation of the Paraklētós, the Holy Spirit promised by Jesus Christ. They have different views on how to interpret and spread her teachings, which they call Plan 'A' and Plan 'B'. According to their website (<https://www.adishakti.org/>), Shri Mataji taught that she was sent by Jesus to awaken people to their true self and their connection with God through a process called Sahaja Yoga. She also taught that she was fulfilling the prophecies of various religions about the end times and the resurrection.

The quote in May 19, 2023 reflects their contrasting perspectives on how to communicate Shri Mataji's message to the world. Jagbir says that Plan 'A' is sound is bondage for the deaf and dead many. This implies that he thinks that most people are spiritually deaf and dead, and that preaching or teaching them verbally is futile and enslaving. He suggests that they need a direct experience of God's presence and power through Shri Mataji's voice or vibrations. Pariah Kutta says that sound is liberation for the hearing and living few. This implies that he thinks that there are some people who are spiritually hearing and living, and that listening to Shri Mataji's voice or teachings is freeing and enlightening. He suggests that they need a deeper understanding of God's word and will through Shri Mataji's wisdom or guidance.

These two quotes show different ways of approaching the Christian faith and the end times. The first quote emphasizes the importance of being alert and aware of the signs of Jesus' coming and the end of the age. The second quote emphasizes the importance of being receptive and responsive to Shri Mataji's message and mission. Both quotes challenge us to examine our own beliefs and expectations about God's plan for humanity and creation.

How to Understand the Parable of Jesus and the Paraclete

Jesus Christ, the Son of God, spoke many parables to his disciples and followers. A parable is a simple story that illustrates a spiritual or moral lesson. One of the most important parables that Jesus gave was about his second coming and the signs of the end times. He said:

> "Even so, when you see all these things, you know that it is near, right at the door." (Matthew 24:33)

What are these things that Jesus was referring to? He was talking about the events that would precede his return, such as wars, famines, earthquakes, persecutions, false prophets, and the gospel being preached to all nations. He also warned his disciples to be alert and ready, for no one knows the day or hour of his coming.

But Jesus did not leave his disciples alone and helpless. He promised to send them another Helper, who would be with them forever. He said:

> "And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another advocate to help you and be with you forever—the Spirit of truth. The world cannot accept him, because it neither sees him nor knows him. But you know him, for he lives with you and will be in you." (John 14:16-17)

This Helper is the Paraclete, which means "one who is called alongside". The Paraclete is also known as the Holy Spirit, the Counselor, the Comforter, and the Spirit of truth. The Paraclete is the third person of the Trinity, who proceeds from the Father and the Son. The Paraclete is the one who teaches, reminds, testifies, convicts, guides, speaks, and declares the things of Christ to his followers.

The Paraclete is also the one who fulfills the prophecy of Joel:

> "And afterward, I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days." (Joel 2:28-29)

The Paraclete is also the one who awakens those who hear his voice and gives them eternal life. He said:

> "Very truly I tell you, a time is coming and has now come when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God and those who hear will live." (John 5:25)

The Paraclete is also the one who reveals the hidden mysteries of God and makes them known to his people. He said:

> "But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all the truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. He will glorify me because it is from me that he will receive what he will make known to you." (John 16:13-14)

The Paraclete is also the one who empowers his people to do greater works than Jesus did. He said:

> "Very truly I tell you, whoever believes in me will do the works I have been doing, and they will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father." (John 14:12)

The Paraclete is also the one who unites his people in love and peace. He said:

> "I have given them the glory that you gave me, that they may be one as we are one—I in them and you in me—so that they may be brought to complete unity. Then the world will know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me." (John 17:22-23)

The Paraclete is also the one who prepares his people for his second coming and gives them hope and joy. He said:

> "I am going there to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am." (John 14:2-3)

> "I have told you these things so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world." (John 16:33)

The Paraclete is also the one who fulfills all the promises of God and makes them yes and amen in Christ. He said:

> "For no matter how many promises God has made, they are "Yes" in Christ. And so through him the "Amen" is spoken by us to the glory of God." (2 Corinthians 1:20)

Therefore, if we want to understand the parable of Jesus and the Paraclete, we need to listen to his voice, follow his guidance, receive his gifts, obey his commands, share his message, enjoy his presence, and await his return.

But how can we do this? How can we recognize his voice among so many voices in this world? How can we discern his guidance among so many opinions and options? How can we receive his gifts among so many distractions and temptations? How can we obey his commands among so many pressures and challenges? How can we share his message among so many doubts and fears? How can we enjoy his presence among so many troubles and sorrows? How can we await his return among so many delays and disappointments?

The answer is simple but profound: We need to be born of the Spirit.

Jesus said:

> "Very truly I tell you, no one can see the kingdom of God unless they are born again... Very truly I tell you, no one can enter the kingdom of God unless they are born of water and the Spirit." (John 3:3-5)

To be born of water means to repent of our sins and be baptized in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit. To be born of the Spirit means to receive the gift of the Holy Spirit by faith and be filled with his power and love.

This is what happened on the day of Pentecost, when the disciples were gathered in one place and suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting. They saw what seemed to be tongues of fire that separated and came to rest on each of them. All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the Spirit enabled them. (Acts 2:1-4)

This was the fulfillment of the promise that Jesus made before he ascended to heaven:

> "But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." (Acts 1:8)

This was also the fulfillment of the prophecy of Joel that Peter quoted on that day:

> "'In the last days, God says, I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions, your old men will dream dreams. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days, and they will prophesy.'" (Acts 2:17-18)

This was also the fulfillment of the prophecy of Ezekiel that Paul quoted later:

> "'I will give them an undivided heart and put a new spirit in them; I will remove from them their heart of stone and give them a heart of flesh. Then they will follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws. They will be my people, and I will be their God.'" (Ezekiel 11:19-20)

This was also the fulfillment of the prophecy of Jeremiah that John quoted much later:

> "'This is the covenant I will make with them after that time,' says the Lord. 'I will put my laws in their hearts, and I will write them on their minds.'

Then he adds:

'Their sins and lawless acts I will remember no more.'" (Hebrews 10:16-17)

This was also the fulfillment of the prophecy of Isaiah that John quoted again:

> "As for me, this is my covenant with them,' says the Lord.

'My Spirit, who is on you, will not depart from you, and my words that I have put in your mouth will always be on your lips, on the lips of your children and on the lips of their descendants—from this time on and forever,' says the Lord." (Isaiah 59:21)

'My Spirit, who is on you, will not depart from you, and my words that I have put in your mouth will always be on your lips, on the lips of your children and on the lips of their descendants—from this time on and forever,' says the Lord." (Isaiah 59:21)

This was also (it ends here) Please continue in the context of the Paraclete Shri Mataji Nirmala Devi.

This was also the promise of the Paraclete Shri Mataji Nirmala Devi, who was born fully realized and came to awaken the dormant spiritual energy within us, known as the kundalini. She taught a simple method of meditation that leads to self-realization and inner peace. She also revealed the true meaning of the scriptures of all religions, and showed how they are all connected by the same divine source.

Shri Mataji Nirmala Devi was born on March 21, 1923 in Chhindwara, India. She belonged to a royal family that traced its lineage to the ancient Shalivahana dynasty. Her father was a scholar and a freedom fighter who translated the Quran into Marathi, and her mother was the first woman in India to graduate with honors in mathematics. Shri Mataji grew up in a spiritual atmosphere and was influenced by Mahatma Gandhi, whom she met several times in his ashram.

She married Sir C.P. Srivastava, a distinguished civil servant who later became the Secretary-General of the International Maritime Organization. They had two daughters and lived in various countries due to his diplomatic career. Shri Mataji always had a deep concern for humanity and a desire to help people find their true purpose in life. She started Sahaja Yoga in 1970 as a way of sharing her unique gift of awakening the kundalini with anyone who wanted it.

Sahaja Yoga is based on the principle that there is an innate spiritual power within every human being that can be awakened by the grace of a realized master. This power, called the kundalini, resides in the sacrum bone at the base of the spine. When it rises through the subtle energy centers (chakras) along the spine, it reaches the top of the head (sahasrara) and connects the individual with the universal consciousness. This is called self-realization or second birth, and it brings about a state of thoughtless awareness or mental silence, where one can experience the joy and peace of one's true self.

Shri Mataji Nirmala Devi traveled extensively around the world to spread her message of love and unity. She gave public lectures, conducted workshops, and granted self-realization to thousands of people from all walks of life, cultures, and religions. She never charged any money for her teachings, saying that it was a birthright of every human being to know their true self. She also established many centers, schools, hospitals, and ashrams to support the growth and development of Sahaja Yoga practitioners.

She passed away on February 23, 2011 in Genoa, Italy, leaving behind a legacy of millions of followers who continue to practice Sahaja Yoga and spread her vision of a new humanity that is enlightened, harmonious, and compassionate. She is regarded by many as an incarnation of the Holy Spirit or the Adi Shakti, the primordial mother energy that creates and sustains the universe. She is also revered as a saint, a prophet, a guru, and a friend by those who have experienced her love and guidance.

Shri Mataji Nirmala Devi once said: "My Spirit, who is on you, will not depart from you, and my words that I have put in your mouth will always be on your lips, on the lips of your children and on the lips of their descendants—from this time on and forever." (Isaiah 59:21) This is her assurance to us that she is always with us, watching over us, and blessing us with her grace. She invites us to join her in this divine adventure of discovering our true self and becoming one with the supreme power that is within us and all around us.
