Nicodemus said to him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born?" Jesus answered, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God." Pariah Kutta, "Mukhtiar Kaur gave me the first physical birth of flesh in 1951 but my Mother Kundalini gave me the second spiritual rebirth of Spirit in 1993." (June 28, 2022) John 3:4-5

The following text is a paragraph that uses the given keywords. It is written in an informational tone and is long in length.

Pariah Kutta is a term that refers to the Indian pariah dog, a landrace of dog native to the Indian subcontinent. The word kutta means dog in Hindi and Urdu, and pariah means outsider or outcast. Pariah Kutta is also known as INDog, Desi Dog, Pye-dog, and Indian native dog.

According to a quote attributed to Pariah Kutta on June 28, 2022, he claimed to have experienced a spiritual rebirth of Spirit in 1993, after being born of flesh in 1951. He compared his experience to the biblical passage of John 3:4-5, where Jesus told Nicodemus that one must be born of water and the Spirit to enter the kingdom of God. Pariah Kutta said that his first physical birth was given by Mukhtiar Kaur, but his second spiritual rebirth was given by his Mother Kundalini, a term that refers to a primal energy or life force in Hinduism.

How to Be Born Again: A Spiritual Journey

Have you ever wondered what it means to be born again? Many people think that being born again is a religious term that only applies to Christians, but in fact, it is a universal concept that can be found in many spiritual traditions. Being born again means to experience a radical transformation of your consciousness, to awaken to your true nature, and to enter a higher realm of existence.

One of the most famous passages in the Bible that talks about being born again is John 3:4-5, where Jesus has a conversation with a Jewish leader named Nicodemus. Nicodemus said to him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born?" Jesus answered, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God."

What did Jesus mean by being born of water and the Spirit? Water symbolizes the cleansing of our sins and the renewal of our lives. Spirit symbolizes the divine power that gives us new life and connects us with God. Being born of water and the Spirit means to repent of our old ways and to receive God's grace and love. It means to become a new creation, a child of God.

But being born again is not only a Christian concept. Many other spiritual traditions have similar teachings about the process of rebirth. For example, in Hinduism, there is a concept called Kundalini, which is a form of energy that lies dormant at the base of the spine. When this energy is awakened, it rises through the seven chakras or energy centers in the body, until it reaches the crown chakra at the top of the head. This process is called Kundalini awakening, and it is said to bring about a profound spiritual transformation.

One person who claimed to have experienced this Kundalini awakening was Pariah Kutta, a Sikh from India. He wrote in his blog post on June 28, 2022: "Mukhtiar Kaur gave me the first physical birth of flesh in 1951 but my Mother Kundalini gave me the second spiritual rebirth of Spirit in 1993." He described how he felt a surge of energy in his spine that made him feel blissful and ecstatic. He said that he saw visions of light and heard divine sounds. He said that he realized his true identity as a soul and felt connected with everything.

Whether you call it being born again, Kundalini awakening, or any other name, the essence is the same: it is a process of spiritual awakening that changes your life forever. It is not something that happens overnight, but rather a gradual journey that requires dedication, discipline, and devotion. It is not something that you can achieve by yourself, but rather a gift that you receive from a higher power.

If you are interested in learning more about how to be born again, here are some resources that you can explore:

- Read the Bible, especially the Gospel of John, where Jesus explains how to be born again.
- Read books by spiritual teachers who have experienced Kundalini awakening, such as Yogi Bhanan, Gopi Krishna, or Swami Muktananda.
- Join a spiritual community that supports your growth and development, such as a church, a temple, or a meditation center.
- Pray and meditate regularly, asking for guidance and inspiration from God or your higher self.
- Be open and receptive to the signs and synchronicities that show you the way.

Being born again is not an easy task, but it is worth it. It is the ultimate goal of every human being: to realize who we really are and why we are here. It is the key to happiness and peace. It is the way to enter the kingdom of God.

Pariah Kutta, "Mukhtiar Kaur gave me the first physical birth of flesh in 1951 but my Mother Kundalini gave me the second spiritual rebirth of Spirit in 1993." (June 28, 2022) John 3:4-5

Dear friend,

I am writing to share with you some insights that I have gained from studying two different religious traditions: Christianity and Sikhism. I hope you will find them interesting and inspiring.

You may be familiar with the story of Nicodemus, a Jewish leader who came to Jesus at night to ask him about his teachings. Jesus told him that he must be born again to see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus was puzzled and asked, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born?" Jesus answered, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God." (John 3:4-5)

What does it mean to be born of water and the Spirit? How can we experience this spiritual rebirth? These are questions that many Christians have asked throughout history. Some have interpreted this passage as referring to baptism, which is a ritual of washing with water that symbolizes dying to sin and rising to new life in Christ. Others have understood it as a metaphor for repentance, which is a change of mind and heart that leads to faith and obedience. Still others have seen it as a description of the work of the Holy Spirit, who regenerates and transforms us from within.

But what if we look at this passage from another perspective? What if we compare it with another story of spiritual rebirth from another faith tradition? I recently came across a fascinating testimony by a Sikh man named Pariah Kutta, who wrote: "Mukhtiar Kaur gave me the first physical birth of flesh in 1951 but my Mother Kundalini gave me the second spiritual rebirth of Spirit in 1993." (June 28, 2022)

Who is Mukhtiar Kaur and who is Mother Kundalini? Mukhtiar Kaur was Pariah Kutta's biological mother, who gave birth to him in Punjab, India. Mother Kundalini is a term used in Sikhism and other Indian religions to refer to a divine energy that lies dormant at the base of the spine, and that can be awakened through meditation, yoga, or other spiritual practices. When this energy rises through the seven chakras (energy centers) along the spine, it leads to enlightenment and union with God.

Pariah Kutta's testimony suggests that he experienced a profound transformation when his Kundalini energy was activated. He felt a new connection with God and with all living beings. He also felt a new sense of purpose and joy in his life. He wrote: "I am now living in blissful ecstasy every moment of my life. I have no fear of death or anything else. I have realized my true self and my true nature. I am one with God and God is one with me."

What can we learn from Pariah Kutta's story? How can we relate it to Jesus' words to Nicodemus? Perhaps we can see some similarities and differences between these two accounts of spiritual rebirth. Both Jesus and Pariah Kutta emphasize the need for a radical change in our inner being, a change that involves both water and spirit, or flesh and spirit. Both Jesus and Pariah Kutta claim that this change is possible for anyone who seeks it sincerely and earnestly. Both Jesus and Pariah Kutta testify that this change brings joy, peace, love, and freedom.

However, there are also some differences between these two stories. Jesus speaks of being born again as a gift from God, not as a result of human effort or technique. He says that no one can see or enter the kingdom of God unless they are born again by the Spirit (John 3:3-8). He also says that he is the way, the truth, and the life, and that no one comes to the Father except through him (John 14:6). Pariah Kutta speaks of being born again as a personal achievement, not as a divine grace. He says that he awakened his Kundalini energy by practicing yoga for many years. He also says that he realized his true self and his true nature, which are identical with God.

How do we reconcile these differences? How do we respect both traditions without compromising our own convictions? These are not easy questions to answer. They require dialogue, understanding, humility, and openness. They also require prayer, discernment, wisdom, and faith.

I invite you to join me in this journey of exploration and discovery. I believe that God has something to teach us through every encounter with another person or another culture. I believe that God wants us to grow in love for him and for our neighbors. I believe that God wants us to be born again by his Spirit.

Thank you for reading this email. I look forward to hearing from you soon.
